

Don and Kelly's Story

Don and Kelly talk about an event that happened while they were having a telephone conversation. This is very unusual because one was having the experience and telling the other about it as it was happening.

Don: "Hi I'm Don. I just kinda want to tell you something I saw and heard. I'm one of those guys... I'm not scared of much or afraid of anything. But I ah I didn't really... I don't have much fear in me. I'll try anything and I'm not scared of anything.

Well anyway, it was 2002 on the 4th of August, I sitting on my front porch talking to Kelly my girlfriend And all of a sudden, well first of all I noticed there were no stars, I even said to her "jeeze it's odd, there's no stars out".

And all of a sudden I started to hear a clicking sound, and I was talking to her and I said "can you hear that"? And she says "yeah." You know, I says, "I gotta see what this is", because I like animals a lot. So then I started following the clicking sound, and as I followed the clicking sound, it's got to be some kind of an animal, but I never heard that sound before, I didn't really know, know what it was but I wanted to see what it was, and with me not having any fear, it drove me all the more to go looking for it.

So I walked around my house, and as I walked around my house it seemed to get louder and pretty soon I was standing in the middle of the woods that was along the side of my house and I said "You're right they're real" and I think I said it a second time "they're real". And I looked and there was an alien standing there and I looked up, as I looked toward him I could see his hand, there were three fingers and a thumb. He was grey, his skin looked like leather and then my eyes caught his eyes and I was just paralyzed, it was like I couldn't move, there was nothing I could do.

But I knew Kelly, Kelly... I was one of the guys that was kind of, I believe or don't, but I was open to it but I really didn't believe, but I did believe, you know. It was a kind of in between thing and by luck I just remember her telling me, "just tell them to give me my space". I remember I couldn't talk or move, I remember thinking to myself, you know, "give me my space" and nothing was happening, but in the mean time I could see something behind me and to this day I don't know what it was but I could see something. But when I looked in his eyes, his eyes were red, almost like red-black and they looked like they went forever, I mean just like you looked in a tunnel, forever. I mean they were like ah, it was, it was terrible.

Any way, so at that point I thought, man, I'm dead, you know, I can't move I have no way of fighting back so I did what childhood taught me to do, I started to say the Lords Prayer. The minute I started to say the Lords Prayer I could move and believe me, I turned and took off and never looked back and the branches were hitting me in the face.

I just booked it to my house, you know, and I was talking to her on the phone yet and I rounded the corner, just as I rounded the corner of the house, all of a sudden then was a real bright light, like it just lit up the yard and I could see across the street and I lived out in the country so and it really lit up, but it was only for a split second and then I got into my house. I was, I think it was the first time in my life that I felt fear, scared, I mean I've never ever, I mean I was scared. And I was talking to her. She was giving me things all the way through, like "don't go" and I said, "I just got to see what kind of animal this was" and stuff like that. Then after I was in the house, I came back outside and we were talking, you know, I shaking, I was sick to my stomach, I remember I didn't feel good, and I looked up and there were stars. I'm going to let her tell some of the stuff that we were talking on the phone, some of the stuff because I don't remember some of it and I think that'll kind of clarify.

Kelly: I was talking to Don on the phone and we first starting hearing the noises it was a combination of clicking and chirping and it got louder and louder, it was something we'd never heard before so it frightened me, I didn't know what it was. I kept telling him to go back in the house, but he was determined to figure out what it was and he went around to the back yard and then he said to me "Kelly, this is really weird and I said "what's weird?". "Oh I see them it's got red eyes, it's really weird" then he suddenly got just said "Kelly, they're real, tell me what to say, I forgot what you told me to say."

And as soon as he said “they’re real I just froze.” I knew what he was encountering and my first instinct was to slam the phone down and distance myself from it because I was so frightened. But I knew that by doing that he was alone and there was no one to help him.

I couldn’t call 911 and send them over, so I stayed on the phone and told him to tell them to leave his space and to draw the light of God to him which he tried to do but as he was trying to talk his voice, they had him frozen and his voice wouldn’t come out. It’s like when you’re trying to yell and you can’t and when he finally did speak it was like in slow motion and then it cut off and there was no noise and I didn’t hear anything.

After a few minutes, after that I was just calling into the phone Don, Don what’s going on? For several minutes I heard nothing which frightened me because I didn’t know what was going on. Then suddenly he came back on the phone, this was after he said the Lords Prayer and they released him and he was running out of the woods and he said “I can move. I’m heading out of the woods” he was talking on the phone to me and I said “get in the house just get in the house”. But he got out of the woods I remember him saying “I’m out of the woods and I ‘m in the front yard” and then we continued to talk but he (Kelly then turns to Don and asks if he stayed outside or if he went into the house and he replied that he went into the house.) He went into the house because he was very upset and then we continued to talk and he came back outside and he said that stars were back and we both noticed that there was just dead silence. He lives right next to the woods and there were no night noises, no crickets chirping no frogs. There’s always night noises out there of the critters, there was nothing, it was just total silence and I was really scared and so I went the next day and talked to the Lightside people about it. Don wants to tell you something else.

Don: Well after this happened, I didn’t want to talk about it, I didn’t want to even mention it, I didn’t want to think about it. I told her I didn’t want to talk about it; I didn’t want to think about it and just didn’t want nothing to do with it.

And then it was like she wouldn’t come over to my house. And about two weeks later she decided to come over to my house and it was during the day this time and we were talking, it was one of the first times after that I was willing to talk about it and it was just starting to get dark and she didn’t want to be there after dark. I had a picture that I had drawn and I showed her the picture of it and that was about it, you know, we were discussing it. It started to get dark so we started to go to her house because she didn’t want to be there after dark, she was scared, I was , I was I mean I never felt fear like that in my life and I still don’t like talking about it. Well anyway, so we got in the car and we drove off. Well we got halfway down the road and I had forgotten my medicine and so well anyway I remember I was coming back and when I was coming back or got to my house and there were two messages on the machine, you know, I’d check it and one message was from a person and the other message was nothing but the clicks, it was just the clicks as plain as day. As soon as I heard the clicks, what I wish I wouldn't have done now, I hit the erase button, you know, they were on the phone which made me feel like, which made me keep quiet for along time, because it was like telling me not to talk about them anymore and that's how I felt.

And I didn't and well that was in the summer of 2002 and this is basically the first time I really ever talked in front of people.

I talked a few people about it but never a lot but it was, but I was one that always said "boy I wish they'd, a tough guy like me, well I wish they'd just come and take me, you know, I wish they'd come and get me right now." And she'd say to me "yeah, they'd come and take you and you wouldn't be talking so smart." Well needless to say I don't say that any more.

But and then, since then the picture, I don't know, I've moved to Green Bay, but I knew where the picture was and for some reason that day I was just going to look at it again. I went to get it, I knew right where the folder was, I opened up the folder and the picture was gone. But the picture doesn't really matter because I have it burnt in my brain. I mean I'd have no trouble drawing it again. But that's the only experience I've ever had and I pray I never have another one. I don't want another one. And I hope there are no signs or nothing that occurs because of this, but I do know that God will get me out of it and I guess that's all I have to say.

Kelly: When we were leaving Jon's house and heard the clicking on the machine I was just ready to open the door to leave and we both heard it at the same time and I just froze. So did he and stopped the machine and he played it again and then he quickly erased it and we got out of there, fast! We were going down the road and he remembered he'd forgotten his pills and it was getting dark by now and I was scared and I just wanted to get back to Appleton and as far away from there as we could and he kept saying "why don't you turn around, why don't you turn around I've got to go back" and I'm thinking how am I going to get out of this, there's no way I'm going back there. I was going to have him let me out of the car under a street light, just stay there then he could go back and get the pills and pick me up but I didn't want to be left all alone.

So I went back and I stayed in the car while he went back in the house to get the pills. I kept the car in reverse in case I heard any little noise I was getting out of there. But nothing happened when we went back that was before we left the house that's why we were so frightened to go back there. We both looked at each other in the house and said well that's just a glitch, but we both knew it wasn't, but he didn't want me scared and I didn't want him scared. So we said that, but as soon as we got down the road and said "that was them, that was no glitch" and we were heading out of there. And then we went and saw the movie "Signs" and if any of you have ever seen the movie "Signs" there's a part where the alien is standing in the living room holding the boy and it makes this noise. And the noise that the alien makes is very close to what we heard. It's about as close as you can come. It's not exact but it's very, very close to what we heard. And for a long time after that experience, because of the clicking and chirping whenever it was hot I'd close all my windows because I heard the crickets out there I was afraid they'd get louder and louder. I didn't have air but I spent many a hot night with all my windows closed just because I was afraid of the sound. But this guy is one that always said "I wish they'd land in my back yard. I'd just hop on board" and I'd just say to him "no you don't: and now he knows what I was talking about.

A short time later Don told us he remembered some facts that he forgot to say because he was so nervous. He wanted to tell them, so what follows is the rest of his story.

Don: One of the things I left out, once I left the woods and got into my house I seen on my wrist (he's showing his left wrist palm side up and pointing to the side of it while explaining.) I seen on my wrist four little cuts maybe an eighth inch long. They were in a perfect square and they weren't scrapes, they were eighth inch cuts.

The other thing I forgot to say was when I did come in... I was a little embarrassed to say, I did come in and the first thing I did was threw up. I threw up because I had so much fear in me at the time that I just threw up and I was sick to my stomach. It was fear, scared and I never felt fear like that in my whole life.

And then also when I was following the clicks when I went into the woods, it's a real thick woods, I never felt a branch hit me, nothing, I just kept following the clicking and after when I broke the spell by saying The Lords Prayer and could move again I could feel the branches hitting me all over the place. So how I got in there without touching a branch I'll never know, it's almost an impossible thing to do if you know these woods."
